POLICE CHASE ROBBER

Negro Who Robbed Waukegan Saloon Nabbed After Exciting Hunt

POLICE FIRE THREE SHOTS

When Arrested the Negro Had on His Person Twenty Dollars and Sixty Cents, Bunch of Keys and a Knife

After a running fight of three blocks, in which three shots were fired by the police, Tony Brooks, reputed as one of Chicago's bad negroes, was surrounded and while two officers held him at bay with loaded revolvers, Captain Adam Vogel made the arrest.

Brooks is charged with having burglarized the Tim Kelly buffet on Madison street, Waukegan, from which he is charged with having stolen twenty dollars and sixty cents and with having attempted to loot the McDermott Twins' buffet on Washington street.

The capture of this notorious crook marks a supposed climax to petty robberies about this section of the country.

Shortly after three Monday morning Officer Metz ran across the negro in the alleyway at the rear of the Log Cabin saloon on Washington street. The officer shouted, "Hold up or I will fire." The negro, however, succeeded in ducking behind a stone wall and making a getaway.

Realizing that his brother officer, Louie Schuerer, was on the corner at the police patrol box, Metz drew his whistle and sounded the alarm.

Schuerer took the tip and rushed down Washington street just in time to see a suspicious looking character rush across the street and hasten into the alleyway adjoining the Knights of Pythias hall.

Schuerer did not follow onto the culprit's trail but instead hastened down Washington street and over onto the bluff, where he hid in a seclusion in the grass on the boulevard at the top of the hill. He had surmised right. In a few moments he observed the same man rush from the rear of the McCanney building and race down the hill.

Schuerer drew his revolver and ordered the man to stop. He did not. Schuerer fired but missed his mark. Again he shouted and again he fired with the same result. The third time he fired he barely missed the negro, who stopped and then raced off back of the wrapper factory.

Captain Adam Vogel of the night police force, who stood on the Northwestern depot platform at the time, hastened in the direction of the shots as soon as the first shot was fired.

As he neared the end of the platform he observed a stocky built man running up the tracks. He ordered him to stop and was on the point of firing when the supposed culprit turned and Vogel recognized Schuerer. The officers took up the trail and had just started on a roundup of the district when George Sager, watchman at the E. J. & E. offices, approached from the east. Sager informed the officers that he had observed a suspicious looking character hiding in the bushes at the lake. The officers rushed to the lake front where they found the culprit. A roundup ended in his capture.

The negro denied being implicated with the robbery. Keys, money and a knife found on his person, however, convinced the officers that they had arrested the guilty party.

On closing his doors Saturday evening Mr. Kelly had left but twenty dollars and sixty cents in the cash register. The register had been broken open and as the machine is one of the three hundred variety the breaking will amount to a neat sum. Twenty dollars and sixty cents were found on Brooks at the time of the arrest.

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned for hauling gravel for graveling the road from the Sylvan Beach Hotel to the Will Tiffany corners. Bids will be received at any time up to Oct. 1, 1908. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. William Girard, Antioch.

Not So Much Needed.

Like most minister's families, they were not extensively blessed with this world's goods. She, however, was the youngest of ten children until her father explained to her of the baby sister who had come in the night. "Well," she said, after due thought, "I 'spose it's all right, papa, but there's many a thing we needed worse."—Delineator.

THE FISH TRUST ABSORBED

A. Booth & Company Reported to Have Gone Over to Big Packing Interests

The firm of A. Booth and Company, Chicago to which Waukegan fishermen ship their produce, is said to have been absorbed by the meat trust and this means the meat trust has absorbed the fish trust.

There have been reports for some time that such a deal was contemplated and the well known sings of a coupe, which Booth & Co. have exhibited on the Chicago Stock Exchange recently, to the great indignation of conservative brokers, are taken to mean that the big bargain is clinched and that the big fellows are proceeding to "shake out" the little ones.

The fish trust's common and preferred stocks were allowed to sell exdividened on August 20. September 1 was the day appointed when the dividend should be payable, but on August 31 the directors met and decided to pass it.

Whenever a stock is allowed to sell exdivided there is at least an implied assurance that the dividend will really be paid, but in the case of Booth & Co. this implied assusance is said to have amounted to a positive assurance from men within the management, or close to management of the fish trust.

For weeks there has been in Chicago an agent of a foreign bank which is known to have charge of the financial affairs of the Chicago packing houses, or several of them in the country where it does business.

This agent has been careful to conceal the fact that he is not acting for his bank but for one of the great Chicago clients of his bank. He has been in frequent consultation with the heads of A. Booth & Co.

About the time the directors of Booth & Co decided to pass the dividend and thereby lay themselves open to a severe reprimand from the Chicago Stock Exchange, the foreign agent left the city.

ANTIOCH STARS WIN TWO MORE GAMES OF BALL

Last Sunday the Stars showed their staying qualities by defeating the fast McNichols Stars of Chicago. With the score 6 to 6 in the fourth inning the Antioch boys landed on pitcher Waddell and drove him off the rubber, and by playing gilt edge ball held the visitors safe for the rest of the game the final score being 18 to 6.

The features of the game were the big stick work of Lumb and Weinberg and the fast work of the home boys on the infield which pulled off two startling double plays which, with the pitching of Poulton, put our boys on easy street.

On Monday last the home team played the Wadsworth team at Russell at a picnic given by the Stars of Equity, which proved to be one of the hardest games played this season.

Pitcher Poulton was hit by a pitched ball early in the game and was forced to depend upon his teammates to pull him through which they nobly did, winning by a score of 14 to 9

The Stars had their batting clothes on and knocked the ball all over the lot, Weinberg cleaning the bases in the first inning with a three base drive which made the Wadsworth crowd look sick, and the Antioch Cornet Band played "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight"

Base Hits

We are glad to see Billy Lumb back at short and we notice an increase in attendance of the fair ones. Good luck Billy, we all think you would make a good citizen.

Anyone wishing to join the Rooters' Association please give your name and voice to George Bartlett. Good work George, keep it up.

Wanted—One bushel basket. If you have a real large one kindly deliver same to Will Kelly at second base any Sunday

PRAIRIE FIRE NEAR TREVOR WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock a call for assistance was sent from Trevor to Antioch when it was discovered that a prairie fire has started on the farm of A. Runyard and sweeping north had crossed to the farm of Wm. Evans and had entered some stacks of hay which were in the field and for a time had threatened the house and barn also.

A number from here responded to the call and aided in gaining control of the flames. A strip was plowed between the fire and the Evans buildings which checked its northward course. For a time it spread toward the south also but fortunately was subdued before any great amount of damage was done.

$10,000 FIRE AT BENTON

Church and Store Totally Destroyed by Fire Saturday Morning

WILL NOT REBUILD CHURCH

Boys From Zion City Smoking Cigarettes in Wood Shed Back of Church Said to Have Caused the Blaze

Boys from Zion City smoking cigarettes in the wood shed in the rear of East Benton church are believed to have been the careless cause of a disastrous $10,000 fire at Benton just outside of Zion City Saturday morning.

The losses: Morris and Sabine meat market—burned to the ground and is a total loss with stock and fixtures.

East Benton Methodist church—burned to the ground and is a total loss.

Hiram Ferry place—damage of trifling nature incurred but progress of flames is checked.

Zion City young men and boys congregate in the wood shed, in the rear of the church that burned, as many as fifty at a time, as the shed is out of the corporate limits of Zion City, and it is believed that a match or cigarette butt dropped in the wood shavings started the blaze.

Men in the Morris and Sabine meat market were apprised of the fire when smoke began to come into the back door of the place. An instant later the butcher shop and grocery were also ablaze and a pillar of flame and smoke ascended from the frame church, which in a very short time was a smoking mass of ruins, a total loss uncovered by insurance.

The fire was fought ineffectually by a water supply pumped by the Hiram Ferry gasoline engine, an alarm being turned in at Zion City at once when the discovery of the fire was made. The stream was too small and lacked carrying power, so that efforts of the Zion department failed to make results.

The Ferry barn and haystack were scorched and damaged.

H. Ferry, Jr., in an interview stated that he feared the loss to the church would amount to something over three thousand dollars. Mr. Ferry on his own responsibility had had the church property insured for nine hundred with the Millburn Mutual Insurance Company. It was announced later by the East Benton church community that it would not rebuild immediately.

The giant brick chimney fell at ten minutes after one. No one was injured as it was impossible for even those fighting the fire to get close enough to be hit by falling bricks.

Mr. Morris, of the firm of Morris and Sabine, stated that all that had been saved was the cash drawer, insurance certificates and the account books. Mr. Sabine lost his forty-five dollar watch in the fire.

MRS. ISBESTER FATALLY BURNED WEDNESDAY

Just as we go to press this (Wednesday) afternoon word reaches us of the sad accident of Mrs. James Isbester who resides with her husband and family north east of town.

At an early hour this morning when only she with her step daughter Clara were in the house, her husband having gone to the depot with his milk, in some unaccountable manner her clothing caught fire and before it could be extinguished the greater part of her body had been severely burned

Dr. Ames was at once summoned and did all in his power to make her comfortable but pronounced her injuries fatal and informed the family that she could not live the day through. Particulars of the accident can not be obtained but we learn that she passed away about two o'clock.

The Holland Primrose.

There is a beautiful flower in Holland called the evening primrose. It has escaped from cultivation, and now grows wild in many places. The plant is about five feet in height, and is covered with flowers of a brilliant yellow color. A traveler who came upon a field of these primroses shortly before sunset describes what he calls the dramatic effect made by them. It is at that hour that the flowers open, and as he approached the field, they all opened at once, and so suddenly that it seemed as if a magic wand had touched the land and covered it with a golden sheet.

BATTLES WITH BULL

Joseph Flannax on Peter Nelson Farm Near Libertyville Has Narrow Escape

BOVINE TRAMPLES VICTIM

Flannax Buts Up a Brave Fight and Escapes Only by Rolling on Ground and Into a Pond of Water

That a thrilling hand-to hand battle took place between a man and a bull not long ago is a tale that is true but is not generally known. The scene of this battle was on the Peter Nelson farm about six miles northwest of Libertyville and the hero Joseph Flannax, foreman of the farm. Hero he certainly was but most bedraggled and painfully injured before he escaped. The famous Spanish matador never put up a more clever and game battle than did this Lake county man and it was only through cleverness and strategy that he escaped with his life.

It seems that Flannax attemped to cross the big pasture in which his bull was kept and the animal being in a peevish mood immediately took after him. The only thing Flannax could lay his hands on to protect himself was a small stick about three feet long and with this he began a battle royal. With this he batted the bull across the nose and dodged. This stayed the bull but an instant and with a bellow of rage he would again charge. Flannax fought on and on losing ground at every charge until at last worn out by the continual running fight he went down before the vigorous onslaught of the enraged animal.

For some unknown reason the bull instead of turning upon the man and goring him to death with his horns began to trample upon him with his hoofs. Flannax in a semi-conscious condition again began a game of tag with death but instead of using his feet was compelled to roll along the ground. His legs were so badly lacerated that he was unable to regain his feet and his arms as well were torn and bleeding.

Life is sweet and the almost exhausted man saw that the only avenue of escape that lay open to him was to roll along the ground to a corner of the field in which was a large pond of water. Over and over he rolled with the steaming nostrils of the bull close to his face. Now this side now that, attempting to avoid the cruel hoofs that crushed and bruised his flesh at every turn.

For over a hundred yards he rolled and saw upon reaching the water that a barbed wire fence on one side and a wovern wire fence on the other were barriers that he could never surmount in his weak condition. Into the water he rolled. The bull stopped seemingly tired of the sport, stood off to watch his victim, nervously pawing the ground. Flannax, glad of the relief and the soothing touch of the water upon his wounds, lay perfectly still and in a short time the bull forgot his troubles and began switching the flies—and then to graze. Flannax, watching his opportunity, quietly waded through the water to the fence and crawled under. He reached the farm house more dead than alive and Dr. J. L. Taylor was immediately called to dress his wounds. He has been confined to his bed for the past week but will recover without serious injury.

BEAR NAMES OF GREAT MEN.

Famous Cognomens Borne by Those of Humble Occupation.

The question of what to do with our great men after they have ceased to hold high office is effectively answered in the New York city directory. According to that unimpeachable authority, George Washington is pursuing the humble but very useful occupation of a barber in Harlem—and, according to his customers, he is a good one. Andrew Jackson, whose name has heretofore been associated with notable military achievement, follows the peaceful calling of a nurse. Abraham Lincoln is put down as a secretary, William McKinley as a publisher, and James Madison as the secretary of an important corporation. James Monroe is a machinist; Benjamin Harrison a printer; William Henry Harrison a fireman, and Andrew Johnson a sailmaker. Thomas Jefferson is appropriately in charge of a Tammany clubhouse; John Adams is a policeman, and John Tyler proudly figures as a gentleman.—Lippincott's.

Microbes.

Scientists say we couldn't live without microbes. Wish, however, they couldn't live within us.

INSPECT LAKE CO. CATTLE

Tuberculosis Institute Heads Busy on Project With Chicago

Dr. Evans of the Chicago Board of Health, in an interview with Dr. Watterson, head of the Waukegan colony for those suffering from tuberculosis, stated that after the first of January, 1909, the Chicago city council and the Cook county officials would not allow milk procured from cattle suffering from tuberculosis to be shipped into Cook county. According to Dr. Watterson's statement Chicago doctors fear that the farmers who have in the past shipped milk from cattle suffering from this dread disease into Chicago, will ship large quantities into Waukegan and other north shore cities.

At a meeting of the members of the Tuberculosis society held in Dr. Tombaugh's office last Friday evening, at which fifteen were present, a special committee was appointed by the members of the executive committee whose duty it will be to stall any movement upon the part of the farmers of the surrounding county to push one over Waukegan and ship the diseased milk.

Dr. Gavin is a member of the Chicago society and they have asked that he act in unison with their movements and aid them in having every herd of cattle around Chicago inspected and the results recorded.

Dr. Evans also recommended that the local society procure a Chicago lecturer to speak on the question of the dread disease at an open meeting, if for no other reason than to get the citizens interested.

Dr. Gavin proposed that the city council in connection with the mayor be interviewed and advised to appoint a special veterinary whose duty it would be to inspect the herds of cattle in Lake county, report their physical condition and have them recorded.

A. J. OLSON VICTIM OF HOLDUP MAN

Albert J. Olson, republican nominee for the state senate from this district, was relieved of $3.000 by a lone highwayman in Yellowstone Park about ten days ago, Mr. Olson being one of the victims of the fellow who stopped eight park coaches, made the passengers all get out and line up while he took all their money and valuables. Mr. Olson is reported to have had with him $800 in cash and a draft for $2,200. The highwayman did not forget to take all of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were touring the park and happened to be in the party which was victimized by the holdup man, who stationed himself at a turn in the road and stopped the big coaches as they came along. The couches are double deckers, drawn by four horse teams, and will carry fifteen or twenty passengers. As the coaches rounded the turn in the road a thin man with a thick gun, with a handkerchief across his face ordered the driver to halt and then ordered all the passengers out of the coaches. He lined them up made one of their own number assistant collector and went through the crowd.

OPENING REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IN LAKE COUNTY

The Republican campaign for Lake county will be opened at Waukegan on Thursday evening, Sept. 10. The steamer Roosevelt will arrive at Waukegan from Chicago at 7:30. Gov. Deneen, Congressman Foss and speakers of national reputation, with 350 members of the Marquette club, will arrive to open the campaign.

If you fail to attend you will miss one of the most notable gatherings in Illinois politics.

NEW ZEALAND'S WHITE ISLAND.

Always Enveloped in Clouds of Steam —Its Strange Lakes.

White Island, in Australia, derives its name from the clouds of white steam in which it appears to be continually enveloped. Its area is only 600 acres, and its height about 880 feet above the sea level.

In form and color it is like a reposing camel, while its interior with its gray, weather-beaten, almost perpendicular cliffs, recalls the Coliseum at Rome. Overhanging the southern landing place stands a column of rock closely resembling a sentinel, which has been dedicated to the memory of Capt. Cook. The water of the island is of a pale green hue, and anything dipped into it becomes of a red brick color. The fumes of sulphur are always plainly perceptible.

On a fine moonlight night a wonderful sight is afforded to any one who will sit in an open boat in one of the lakes of the island. Covering an area of 50 acres is an immense caldron hissing and snorting and sending forth volumes of poisonous steam, while all chances of egress appear to be denied by the steep, silent and gloomy cliffs.

WOMAN TAKES POISON

Mrs. Palo, of Waukegan, Commits Suicide by Taking Paris Green

ILLNESS CAUSES INSANITY

Sickness Caused Morbed State of Mind of Woman Who Feared Death Menaced Self and Children

Mrs. Lizzie Palo, mother of five children committed suicide late Saturday evening by means of Paris Green, one of the most deadly of poisons, while insane.

Mrs. Palo, who resides at 629 Cummings avenue, Waukegan, has been ill for some time. Her husband states that she has been ailing for three months. At times her relatives and members of her own family feared that she was mentally deranged. They were required to keep a constant watch over her most of the time.

Saturday morning, however, Mrs. Palo announced a desire to leave her bed, to which she had been confined at intervals for the past seven weeks, and to aid in the household work. Her desire was granted.

For the most of the day Mrs. Palo aided in the many duties required of the mistress of the house. Her husband returned from work about seven o'clock in the evening.

Noticing that his wife acted unusually strange, Mr. Palo asked her what she had been drinking.

"I have taken poison, I am tired of living, I want to die," was the response of the woman. The tale of the drinking of the poison was borne out by the stains on the front of her dress.

Mr. Palo immediately dispatched one of his daughters for a doctor. Dr. Baker was called and after a few hours pronounced her condition as hopeful. A stomach pump was brought into use and the crazed woman's condition was soon announced as hopeful. Dr. Baker left the house stating that her heart was greatly relieved and that he thought she would survive the poison which was rapidly affecting the heart.

Mrs. Palo's condition seemed encouraging to her relatives throughout the night. However, early in the morning her condition became more serious and before aid could be summoned the poison had gripped the death hold on her heart and she was passed to the great beyond.

An inquest was held late Sunday evening at which developments proved that the victim had grown despondent through illness and that she had committed suicide

Mr. Palo testified that it was his opinion that his wife had been insane for the past seven weeks. Other relaiives testified likewise.

Besides a husband Mrs. Palo leaves five children to mourn her death. Two of the members of the family are young men who will be able to care for themselves.

Mrs. Palo was fifty-three years of age. She was born in Finland and has made this state her residence for the past fourteen years.

TAKES ROMANCE FROM TEARS.

One does not care to have one's tears analyzed like a patent food or medicine, and to associate them with chemical substances, but we are nothing if not practical nowadays, and every shred of romance, poetry and sentiment is remorselessly wrenched from us for scientific purposes.

A French journal devoted to matters of this kind has been telling us, not only of what tears are composed, but exactly the effect that is produced on brain and body when we shed them.

So henceforth when we read that the heroine's "beautiful eyes were suffused with tears," that "in a moment she was weeping passionately on his shoulder," we shall know that by a kind of shower-bath arrangement a mixture of albuminoid, water and chemical substances was let loose at the back of her skull, thus dulling the nerve centers, and really giving her relief.

However, it does not sound romantic, and mere man is likely to imagine that the fair one is really suffering doubly when all this happens.—Gentlewoman.

Still Using Hand Labor.

In China there are match factories at which only hand labor is employed. One of them, at Hsieh Chang, has 600 workers, 400 of whom are women.

A ROMANCE OF A PENNSYLVANIA FARM

SYNOPSIS.

The crowning desire in the life of old Baumgartner is to obtain possession of a beautiful meadow. The property was inherited by Sarah Pressel, very pretty and athletic young girl. Baumgartner came to realize that his only hope of obtaining the property would be through the marriage of his son Sephenijah to Sarah Pressel. In a mock auction "Seffy," as Sephenijah P. Baumgartner, Jr., is popularly known, is raffled off by his father to Sarah for $1. Sarah Pressel is quite the opposite of Seffy. Baumgartner gives Seffy some lessons in courtship. Baumgartner has caused himself to be appointed guardian of Sally. She promises Seffy that she will never kiss any man but him. Sam Fritz, a drunken grocery clerk, calls on Sally and interrupts the kissing. Seffy goes to sleep and begins snoring. Sally leaves the room in a huff, saying: "Good night, gentlemen." Seffy tells his father of his humiliation; of how Sam Fritz had pinned to his bosom while he slept a pasteboard tombstone. Seffy and Sally meet at the Poison spring. She urges him to do something to redeem himself. The father advises Seffy to take Sally home from church. This would be the crucial test, according to the custom of the times. It was the rule in such a test that the one whose arm the girl accepted when leaving the church would be the favored suitor. Then Sam takes Sally's arm. She says: "I am satisfied," and Seffy is left in disgrace. Sam continues his drinking and Sally begins to acquire the habit. Baumgartner curses son and strikes him powerful blow with fist, full in the face. Then the repentant father gathers the youth in his arms. His cries attract Sally and Sam Fritz. Sally rushes up to Seffy's room and finds him unconscious. In the morning Seffy has disappeared. It is a sad and lonesome winter for old Baumgartner. He thinks his son is dead, somewhere from the effects of the cruel blow. When old Baumgartner goes to Sally's home to surrender to her his papers as her guardian he finds her haggard and worn with sorrow. She agrees to quit drinking if he will take the papers back and continue as her guardian. Old Baumgartner and Sally continue as bosom friends. Sam dies of drinking and Sally goes to keep house for old Baumgartner. Reading "The Farm Journal," she is attracted by a masterly article by "S. P. Baumgartner, Jr., president of the Kansas State Farmers' league." She writes, pleading with him to return.

She watched her put it into the bag and then went dreaming home, and for all of the two weeks of waiting she was very happy—dreaming always. Poor girl—she had made her life so unhappy that joy seemed divine. She was sure of Seffy. Sometimes she wondered with a blush and a start if he might not come himself in answer. She would not have been surprised to have him steal up behind her—that was his way, she remembered—and call out softly her name. So she went about almost on tiptoes so that she might hear him if he should. It was a little difficult to keep it from the inquisitive old man, who did not quite understand her sudden happiness. But she did it.

And, finally, the two weeks were up. She was quite sure Seffy would not waste a moment with his answer. And he might use that mysterious instrument, the telegraph, which she understood would not take more than an hour from Kansas. She supposed his message, even if he used the telegraph, would come to the post-office.

The ceremonial of a letter, with simple people, is as much a matter of concern as a treaty between two nations. And now, as she dressed herself in her best clothes to go to the post-office, she felt, somehow, as if she were to be in Seffy's personal presence, and must be as immaculate as always. She wondered how he would address her—forgetting that his answer must come to the one whose name she had signed. She had heard of various most dear head-lines to letters. I am afraid she blushed at all this. For, as she looked in the glass, she saw a face so radiant that she looked again to identify it.

So, all the more she dressed herself with the same care she would have taken were she going to him instead of to the post-office for his letter. She remembered what he had said about her hair, and she ventured to pull it about her face, much as it had been that night in the dark parlor. But at the thought of that the tears came slowly into her eyes. She had been very happy that night. It was all the happiness she had ever known, it seemed now. She dried her eyes and then she sat at the table where Seffy had often sat, and looked again in his broken mirror. The radiance was quenched. Her face was pale and thin now. She thought of it quite as if he were soon to see it.

"I wonder if he'll think me handsome, now?" She shook her head doubtfully at the face she saw in the glass. "No, I have no red cheeks no more—and my eyes are bigger—and my lips thinner—and my hair is paler—and my hands——"

She remembered how he had kissed them, and put her head down and sobbed. They did not seem fit to be kissed now—nor worth kissing.

But the post-mistress liked her better that way and so do I. For she had acquired a daintiness that was almost immaculate.

As soon as Sally came, the post-mistress smiled and shook her head. For she had understood what the letter contained quite as if she had seen it. And she had watched anxiously for the answer.

"Not yet," she said compassionately.

Sally's legs weakened and she clutched at the little shelf before her. It took a moment to swallow the thing in her throat. Then she murmured:

"It's two weeks."

"Yes. But he'd have to be pretty prompt to get it here by this time."

Sally had been sure of this promptness. It never occurred to her to doubt. She would not have wasted a minute. She turned hopelessly away.

"Perhaps to-morrow!" said the kind post-mistress.

Sally veered, smiling.

"You think so?"

"Perhaps. One can never tell. Don't worry, dear. You see the address was very vague and it may be some time before they find him."

"You don't think it is too late?"

"I hope not, dear."

She had not thought of that before. She had fancied him waiting for some such recall. But, of course, he had formed other ties—he would be glad to forget her. He might be married! Of course he was! Otherwise he could not be a president!

"I guess it's too late," she said again.

"I would not think that. The address was very vague. But, after you were gone, I took the precaution to put a return address on the envelope, and if he does not get it, it will come back; but that will take some little time."

There was nothing the next day nor the next, nor for the many days afterward that she went to the post-office. She was no longer dressed up for the trip, and she was glad now she had not told his father.

For a while she had to lock herself in her room when the desire came on her to go to the post-office. And then she remained away three days, then a week, and then the post-mistress admitted that the letter had had time to be returned. She must not give up though. Strange things happen, sometimes, with letters.

The letter had been returned, the post-mistress had it then. But she pityingly thought it best that Sally should wait for it still, while she tried to send it back to him.

Otherwise it was very much as Sally had planned and hoped, save that she was a bit sadder. She kept Seffy's father's house, as, perhaps, no house was ever kept before. She had not been famous for the keeping of her own house in the days of her coquetteship. Her grandmother had attended to this—and then a maid who interpreted her faultlessly. But now her own hands did all—and did it with love. And she did replace Seffy—and more. For she plowed, and, after a brief apprenticeship, no one did it better. The bay mare was as kind to Sally as she had been to Seffy. Nothing in his life had ever been so sweet to the old man as those rests when they met. And no food was ever so piquant as that eaten under the trees at their nooning.

"No, Not Everybody," Sighed Sally.

Sally still went to the post-office, and the post-mistress still had her letter where she could have put her hand hand upon it, though she mercifully concealed this.

But there was no hope. Not a word of confidence had passed between Sally and the kind post-mistress, but each knew that the other understood quite as if their confidence was complete. So that it was as if they spoke of an old matter when Sally said, one day:

"Yes—I guess it's too late. He's married."

"I wouldn't think so, if I were you, till I heard from him," said the compassionate woman behind the counter. "I thought so once. He went to war. I heard that he was killed. I married another man—just—oh, just because! Then he came back. I have always been sorry."

Something filled the speaker's eyes—and Sally, with the dumb intuition of the primitive nature, stood there a long time and said only, "Thank you."

But after that hope rose and lived again.

That night the post-mistress received, from Washington, the address of the Kansas State League of Farmers' clubs, and put it on the face of the returned letter and sent it forth again.

XV.

Shall Seffy Enter at This Cue?

Winter had come again—the fifth one. They sat together in the great hearth of the kitchen, in their characteristic attitude when before a fire. The hickory logs sputtered savagely, but sent out to them, nevertheless, a grateful warmth. Their faces and bodies glowed in the fervor of it. And there is nothing like this to put one at peace with all the world.

"Sally," said the old man, "this is nice."

"Very nice," agreed Sally.

But also there is nothing like this to send one's memory backward. And this it was doing for both of them.

"Eferybody don't haf no such fire to-night." And the everybody he thought of as he sighed was—Seffy.

"No, not everybody," sighed Sally, propping her head upon his knee.

"Sally—who do you mean by eferybody?"

"Yas," said Seffy's father very softly, and then they were silent.

"Mebby some's got no homes—and out freezing to-night," the old man said presently.

"I hope not," said Sally. "We could take them in here if we knew where they are—couldn't we, pappy?"

But that last note was the one which dams up tears.

"Yas—if we knowed where they air! My God—if we chust knowed where they air! Sally, don't you nefer turn no one away from the door on a cold winter's night. You don't know who it might be!"

"I'll never turn any one away from the door!" said Sally with emotion.

"And I," agreed Sally.

Sally nodded.

"Sally, how long is it sence you was married?"

"More than four years—nearly five, pappy."

"My! but sings is changed!" said the old man. "Efen the sun don't seem so bright no more."

"Yes, things are changed," said the girl.

"Yit it must be chust an idee. Why, the Bible says that summer and winter shall not change tell eferysing come to pass—eferysing—eferysing—" Then his voice broke. "Yit—yit—yit it's one sing ain't come to pass and it seems like it's nefer going to. It's better sence you come. But yit the house is damp—and shifery,"—he shivered himself—"and empty—like it was a funeral about all the time. Yit it's no one dead—no one's dead—he's not dead—chust gone. You said so—you said it first! And some day he'll come back and we'll git on our knees and beg his pardon. But it's so long—oh, my God—so long! Oh, Seffy—Seffy—little Seffy—I got a pain in my breast about you! You was all I had. Come back to me—come back! I'm a ol' man. And I'm sorry—sorry—and broke—broke down. But if you'll come back—Sally, do you think he'll haf a scar on his face?"

"Some day we shall know—see! Be brave!"

"Yas—yas—that's easy to say. But you nefer struck no one right in the face—when they was looking up at you—in that pleading kind of a way!"

She said piteously, "No."

"Then you don't know nossing about it! Oh, my God! if you'd had it before you for more than four years—like a picture—morning and efening—day and night—eferywheres! The blood on him—and the bed and me!"

CRUDE METHODS OF SPINNING.

Which Were Long in Displacing the Spindle and Distaff.

The invention of the art of spinning was ascribed by the ancients to Minerva, the goddess of wisdom, says a writer in The Housekeeper. The date, 1500 B. C., is given as that of the beginning of the art in Greece, under the direction of the king of Arcadia, but pictured inscriptions on Egyptian monuments show that the use of the spindle and distaff was known in that country much earlier. The first distaff was simply a stick, around which the fiber to be spun was loosely coiled, held in the left hand; the spindle was a sort of top set in motion by a twirl of the hand, the fiber passing between the finger and thumb of the right hand. This invention was improved upon in the course of time by placing the spindle in a frame and making it revolve by mechanical action of the hand or foot in connection with a wheel or treadle—thus giving the true spinning wheel. The first recorded use of this was in the early years of the sixteenth century, but it was probably made and used long before this. The first spinning jenny, a machine working eight spindles, was invented in 1767.

His Wish Came True.

Prof. Edgar L. Larkin, the noted astronomer, was discussing marriage at a dinner in San Francisco. Prof. Larkin believes that it is criminal to continue for life marriages that are unhappy. "Why condemn," he said, with a grim laugh, "men and women to such misery as afflicts our mutual friends, the Blanks? We have all mutual friends in the Blanks' position. At the height of their nightly quarrel the other day Mrs. Blank choked back a sob and said reproachfully: 'I was reading one of your old love letters to-day, James, and you said in it that you would rather live in endless torment with me than in bliss by yourself.' 'Well, I got my wish,' Blank growled."

Careless.

"Oh, George, dear, our wedding must be postponed." "No, darling, no. It must not be." "But it must, George, dear. Father has lost all his money in the market." "You are right, dear. You are right. The wedding must be postponed. I never thought it of you, Mabel. I never thought that you would have such a careless father."—Detroit Free Press.

State Capital News

Springfield.—Beneficial showers in various parts of the state were reported to the Illinois section of the climatological service of the United States department of agriculture. In the weekly bulletin Clarence J. Root, acting section director, summarizes conditions as follows: "The first half of the week was cool, but it ended warm. Minimum temperatures, in the forties in the northern district, and in the fifties in the central and southern districts, obtained on the first three days. The average temperature was two degrees above the normal. The extremes were 97 degrees and 47 degrees. Showers occurred at most stations in the northern and central counties. They were very beneficial and at many places the drought was relieved. More than an inch of rain fell at a few stations. These showers were practically the only precipitation during the week. No rain of consequence fell in the southern district, and the drought is becoming serious. There was an abundance of sunshine, the average being about 85 per cent. of the possible."

Arcola Company Quits.

Adjt. Gen. Scott entered an order for the muster out of the Illinois National Guard of Company A, Fourth infantry of Arcola. Capt. David Davis of the Fourth infantry will wind up the affairs of the military command, and issue honorable discharges to the militiamen. The public property of the company will be shipped to Springfield and stored in the state arsenal. The muster out of the command follows recommendations made by the commanding officer. The company is considered inefficient in drills, and a majority of the members have failed to give proper attention to regular practice. Upon recommendation of the commanding officer of the First infantry, Capt. Frederick W. Lass, quartermaster of the Second infantry, is detailed to duty with the First regiment, as acting commissary. The regimental commissaries of the First, Fourth and Eighth infantries, Illinois National Guard, are directed to proceed to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., to aid in the work that is to be done during the encampment at the barracks. An election is ordered in the Illinois Naval Reserves Saturday, September 26, for lieutenant commander. Capt. W. F. Purdy will preside.

Humphrey Holds Whisky Decision.

The decision of Judge Humphrey as to whether only aged whisky is genuine and whether a distiller must label all other products imitations, is to be made soon. The hearing of arguments in the case was concluded and Judge Humphrey has taken the matter under advisement. The case, when decided, will be a precedent for like litigation in this state. Woolner & Co., Clarke & Co., and Corning & Co., distillers from Peoria, claim that P. J. Rennick, internal revenue collector, has given them orders that they must label all their spirits frumenti, which has not reached a certain age as imitation goods. The complainants are seeking to enjoin the federal officer from carrying out his order. They base their claim on custom, and upon an act of congress in which it is provided that all goods must be labeled by their proper names.

Project Many Trolley Lines.

The Electric Traction Weekly prints a list of 53 new electric railway projects in Illinois. Most if not all of these have been mentioned in one way or another in the daily papers when the company was organized or whenever some other important move was made, but when they are all compiled in one list it makes a formidable showing. Some of the projected lines will never be built while a number of others will be. Ten of the lines are McKinley projects and doubtless there is a serious purpose on the part of the McKinley people to build all of these. Others are important links which will connect lines already in operation and these are certain to be built sooner or later. In most cases the amount for which the companies were capitalized signifies that the organization was only tentative.

Baptists at Work.

The seventy-first annual meeting of the Springfield Baptists' association was held with a pastors' conference at the South Seventh street Baptist church. In attendance were members from Pana, Decatur, Shelbyville, Auburn, Divernon, Stonington, New Berlin, Assumption and other towns. After the sermon by Rev. N. O. Patterson of Stonington a discussion and business session followed. The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the district was held.

Is Registering Bonds.

State Auditor of Public Accounts McCullough completed the registration of $712,500 of East St. Louis refunding bonds. The bonds, which were purchased by a trust company of St. Louis, bear four and one-half per cent. interest, and were sold at a premium of over $13,000. The registration is the largest handled by the state department since the famous issue of over a million dollars by Macoupin county, for the construction of the historic court house at Carlinville.

Much Expected of New Roadway.

"If this road comes up to our expectations, Illinois farmers will soon have the best country driveways in all of the states."

A. N. Johnson, engineer for the state highway commission, thus referred to the new asphalt oil road now in progress of construction from the turn of the street railway track at South Grand boulevard and Washington park around to the Illini Country Club in Springfield. The road is a novelty in this section of the country. There is nothing else like it this side of California, where the roads are made by sprinkling crude oil, several times a year over the surface of the driveway. The "Country club road," as it has come to be called here, is wholly different. Mr. Johnson said: "We are mixing the soil with asphalt oil and using a solution six inches deep for this roadway. Of course it is only an experiment as yet, but I believe it will make good. We are mixing the oil with the yellow soil of this vicinity just now, but other experiments are under headway. For instance, over in Bement, Platt county, they have the pure black earth. Elsewhere gravel prevails and in both places we are mixing the asphalt oil with these elements to learn which is the better adapted for the compound. What is asphalt oil? I must give up that question for the present. We will have it analyzed by a chemist and learn its ingredients. This asphalt oil road," Mr. Johnson went on to say, "is far cheaper than macadam. While the latter will cost $4,000 a mile, asphalt oil can be put in for from $1,500 to $2,000 a mile. The road under construction at the Country club includes three-quarters of a mile, more than half of which is now finished. It passes through the Leland farm, the Wiggins estate and the Country club's property. All of the property owners are enthusiastic over the prospects of the job."

Final Report of Grand Jury.

The special grand jury called to probe the recent race war adjourned after returning 17 more indictments. This makes a total of 117 during the session. Among the indictments returned Thursday were those against four Springfield policemen, Oscar Dahlkamp, Joseph Ferendez, George H. Ohlman and George W. Dawson. They are indicted for alleged failure to suppress the riot when detailed for that duty. Sheriff Warner, Chief of Police Wilbur Morris, Capt. Charles Walsh of troop D., Springfield, and other officers are commended by the grand jury. The report condemns alleged "cowards" among the officials, and says: "After the most diligent inquiry we condemn in unmeasured terms the cowardly, contemptuous action of those members of the police force who, having taken the oath of office, failed to do their duty."

Owes Black Race a Debt.

Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for president, in a statement made at Seattle, Wash., a few days ago, is credited with the remark that a negro had saved his life when he was drowning while a boy, and that he owed a debt to the race. The remark was made in response to a number of negroes, who thanked the candidate for saving the life of a negro while he was in this city. Mr. Chafin in his talk also referred to the vice of the state of Illinois, and declared that the prohibition element had driven it out of a number of cities, and predicted destruction for cities who do not vote liquor out, as the criminal element will flock to these localities.

State Baptists Name Officers.

Visitors from over the state were in attendance at the opening business session of the Springfield Baptist association held at the Central Baptist church. The principal business of the morning was the election of officers, which resulted in the following:

Moderator—N. O. Patterson, Stonington.

Clerk—S. D. McKenna, Auburn.

Treasurer—John O. Rames, Springfield.

Trustee for three years—Rev. Edwin S. Walker, Springfield.

New churches admitted to the association were the Baptist church of Farmersville, Elliott Avenue Baptist church, Springfield and Riverside church, Decatur.

Sandy Curry Arrested.

Sandy Curry, a Springfield negro, who fled following the race riot, and who is wanted here because of supposed connection with murderous assault upon William Bowe, was arrested at Kansas City, Mo., and returned to the capital. A message was received stating that Curry was under arrest at Kansas City. Sheriff Werner sent a deputy after the prisoner.

Lucy Page Gaston's Father Dead.

Harvey.—Dr. Henry Gaston, 81 years old, died after a lingering illness at his residence in Harvey. He was born in Delaware county, Ohio, and came to Illinois in 1866. He left a widow, a daughter, Lucy Page Gaston, superintendent of the National Anti-Cigarette league, and a son, Edward Page Gaston of London, England.

Street Car Accident Fatal.

Quincy.—Simon Fischer, former supervisor, died of injuries received when run down by a street car.

HOUSE WORK

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:

"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SKIN HEALTH

Promoted by Exercise and Cuticura Soap

In the promotion of Skin Health, Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, is undoubtedly superior to all other skin soaps because of its influence in allaying irritation, inflammation, and clogging of the pores, the cause of disfiguring eruptions. In antiseptic cleansing, in stimulating sluggish pores, in emollient and other properties, they have no rivals.

JUST THOUGHT OF GRIEVANCE.

Youngster Waited Long to Find Flaw in Day of Joy.

The circus had come to town, and there was a tiny boy, not more than three years old, who was too excited to eat or sleep, so filled was he with visions of the wonders that might be seen. So his father (who was a big boy himself) decided to take the baby to an afternoon performance, and the two set off together.

It was a gorgeous afternoon, and the two came home with exciting tales of the marvels they had beheld. Never had there been such a show or such animals. Language was quite inadequate to the occasion—it had been a thing of pure, golden joy.

At six o'clock the little fellow was having his supper, when he suddenly stopped, his mouth full of porridge and the spoon sticking out from it at a defiant angle, and burst into a roar, deafening, heart-broken, and inarticulate, the spoon dropping with a clatter to the table.

His father was puzzled and asked various questions as to possible stomach ache, stray pins, etc., meeting with no answer whatever. Then he remonstrated:

"Why, Jacky," he said, "do you think this is nice of you? Father has taken you to the circus, and just think of all the things you've seen! The polar bear, and the elephants—and—"

But Jacky's rage at this became ungovernable, and he found words.

"The elephant—" he wailed, "the elephant—wasn't—wasn't—half big enough!"

LITTLE SLIP GAVE HIM AWAY.

Small Doubt as to How Oyster Tommy Acquired the Dog.

Paddy the Pig, renowned in song and story, expressed a desire for a dog the other day, says the Cincinnati Times-Star. "What sorter dog d'you want?" asked Oyster Tommy, one of the habitues of Paddy's beer store.

Paddy said he wanted a nice bulldog.

"What'll you give for one?" asked Oyster Tommy,

"I'll come over with a tenspot, Tommy," said the proprietor. "But youse ain't got no dog."

"Sure I got a dog," said Tommy. "He's a peach of a bulldog. Regular bulldog color."

Paddy said he'd buy it if it was a good dog. "But mind you, Tommy," said he, "don't you go stealin'-no dog. I ain't the sort of a feller that'll stand fer that."

Tommy professed virtuous indignation at the suggestion and went away. Next day he returned with a beautiful dog, blood showing in every line. "I raised 'im from a pup," said Tommy, proudly.

Paddy took out the ten-dollar bill. "But I want a pedigree wit' him, Tommy," said he.

Tommy looked disgusted. "Aw, shucks!" said he, "why didn't youse say you wanted a pedigree. I'd a stole a pedigree, too."

Centenary of the Waltz.

The waltz is celebrating its centenary this year. Immortalized by Lord Byron, it has during the whole of its existence taken precedence of all other ballroom dances, and is it to be doubted for a moment that, while Terpischore has any votaries in any civilized land, this entrancing form of saltation will stand unrivaled? Every year experts in the art of dancing meet to devise and try saltatory novelties. They come and go. Some endure for a season, others have a longer vogue, but the waltz goes on forever. It holds its own against all others. "There is none like it, none," none that has inspired such haunting melodies, none that has danced away so many hearts.

Buttermilk Lozenges and Long Life.

Gen. Weaver recently recommended soft water for longevity, but the very latest fountain of youth is filled with buttermilk. A Paris scientist has discovered that buttermilk is a panacea and life prolonger and the Pasteur institute is turning out buttermilk tablets by the hopperful.

Good citizens who have no recourse to cows should fill their pockets with the lozenges, nibble them now and then and note the effects. They will do no harm, and on the other hand science's commendable pursuit of the secrets of a long life and a merry one deserves encouragement.

Glories and Glooms.

The students of Yale university have invented some new slang descriptive of important conditions which affect the lives of young men. Here are some additions to the Yale vernaculer:

"A Glory"—A young woman of unusual attractiveness.

"A Gloom"—A young woman of far less than average attractiveness; vide "lemon."

"A Ball of Fire"—A young woman whose beauty and charm are irresistible. An ideal guest for college parties. Vide "peach," "pippin," "corker," etc.

Relation of Weight Tables.

The common standard by which the relative values of the various weight tables are compared is the grain, which for this purpose may be regarded as the unit of weight. The pound troy and the apothecaries' pound have each 5,760 grains; the pound avoirdupois has 7,000 grains. There are scales used which give weights according to various systems, but they are not used to any extent commercially.

JUST PART OF THE TREATMENT.

Youthful Physician's "Bluff" That Happily Convinced Patient.

"I believe," said Dr. John M. Kitchen, "I was the first physician in northern Indiana to make use of chloroform. I was a young fellow, not much past 21 years old, the ink hardly dry on my sheepskin, when a man came into my office to have an aching tooth pulled out.

"I had a small bottle of chloroform, and with the hardihood of youth I made up my mind to use it. He readily went under the influence of the new anaesthetic, I pulled manfully and the grinder came out. I waited, but the patient did not return to consciousness. I was badly frightened, and hastily seizing a bucket with about two gallons of water in it I poured it over him. Gasping, he came out from the influence of the chloroform. Then he wanted to know what I meant by giving him such a soaking.

"Mustering all my professional sang froid I calmly replied: 'That, sir, is a part of the treatment,' and he went away, greatly to my relief, entirely satisfied."—Indianapolis News.

HAS NO USE FOR BATTLESHIPS.

Scotch Minister Somewhat Over-Fervent in Devotion to Peace.

Rev. Walter Walsh of Scotland who has begun a lecturing tour for the American Peace society, is a giant in stature, reports as to his height varying. One says that on the Saxonia, on which he crossed, he was a head taller than the biggest man on board. Another statement is that he would measure up to the largest of New York's famous Broadway squad. Mr. Walsh is a Scotch minister of the independent school and was in this country in 1904, when he spoke on several occasions in the interests of international peace. His topic this time will be "International Peace and Arbitration." When a reporter, on his arrival the other day, mentioned three recent collisions and a boiler explosion in the British navy, Mr. Walsh said: "I wish they were all sunk."

The Style That Goes.

Clyde Fitch, at a dinner given by a group of illustrators in honor of "Girls," his successful new play, produced one of his famous scrapbooks.

"In this scrapbook," said Mr. Fitch, "I have gathered passages from the year's 'best sellers.' The passages will give you some idea of the style that goes."

Then he read:

"'The worthy pastor appeared at the manse door, his hands thrust deep in the pockets of his loose jacket, while he turned the leaves of his prayer book thoughtfully, and wiped his glasses with distraught air.'

"'After the door was closed a stealthy foot slipped into the room, and with cautious hand extinguished the light.'

"'Fitzgibbon lingered over his final lemonade, when a gentle voice tapped him on the shoulder, and turning he beheld his old friend once again.'

"'The chariot of revolution is rolling onward, gnashing its teeth as it rolls.'"

Supposed Tomb of Eve.

A correspondent of an English journal has sent from Jeddah a picture postcard—what a blend of ancient and modern!—of Eve's tomb. He points out that if the sarcophagus is anything like in proportion to the mother of mankind, she must have been about 300 cubits in height, and the tallest of modern women are mere pygmies to her. He relates that there is a singular absence of trees in the district, but that the wily Arab is not insensible of the marketable value of souvenirs of this interesting spot, since, on being asked concerning fig trees, he offered to procure a leaf of one for the modest sum of $25. And they say the modern woman is extravagant in dress!

Mourning Canes.

"When I was in Rome recently," says a New Yorker, "I saw an accessory of dress that I never saw anywhere else. It was a walking stick, an ebony stick, simply and beautifully fashioned and with a plain gun metal band near the handle.

"It was intended to go with mourning wear. There was a dull finish to the ebony that made the stick a fitting accompaniment to other trappings of woe, but the cane itself could have been carried without any suggestion of being in mourning.

"In fact, I never have seen anybody carry his mourning to the extent of a cane, and I imagine that most men would not care for it for that purpose."

Think Welsh Gold Mines Rich.

What are believed will prove the richest gold mines in Wales are about to be worked in Carmarthenshire. The mines are hidden away in the woods, near the main road between Llandilo and Lampeter. It is believed the mines were originally discovered by the Romans, who worked them to a great extent, bringing out between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 tons of material, which lies around, and from these alone it is hoped the working will prove valuable.

For the Present.

"Before I give you my answer," said the beautiful heiress, "you must tell me about your debts."

"Oh," replied the count, "why discuss worldly matters? Let us just talk of love—for the present."

"Dear Uncle—If you could see how I blush for shame as I am writing, you would pity me. Why? Because I have to ask you for a few dollars, and do not know how to express myself. It is impossible for me to tell you. I prefer to die. I send you this by messenger, who will wait for an answer. Believe me, my dearest uncle, your most obedient and affectionate nephew.

"P. S.—Overcome with remorse for what I have written, I have been running after the messenger in order to recover this letter, but I cannot catch him. Heaven grant that something may stop him or that this letter may get lost."

The uncle was naturally touched, but was equal to the emergency. He replied as follows:

"My Dear Jack—Console yourself and blush no more. Providence has heard your prayer. The messenger lost your letter. Your affectionate uncle."—Judge's Library.

Costly Necklaces.

The most costly necklace in the world belongs to the Countess Henckel, a lady well known in London and Paris society, the value of which is said to be $250,000. It is really composed of three necklaces, each of historic interest. One was the property of the ex-queen of Naples, sister of the late Austrian empress; the second, once the property of a Spanish grandee, while the third was formerly owned by the Empress Eugenie. Not long ago a necklace composed of 412 pearls, in eight rows, the property of the late duchess of Montrose, was sold for $60,000. The Empress Frederick of Germany is said to have possessed a necklace of 35 pearls, worth at least $200,000, while Lady Ilchester's necklace of black pearls is valued at about $125,000.

SNAKES A GENERAL NUISANCE.

Pennsylvania Farmers Seem Greatly Bothered by the Reptiles.

George Burhen, who is building a new house for himself on a part of his father's farm on German Hill, went to refill a water jug the other day that had been left in the shade, when he luckily espied a huge rattler 42 inches long and carrying 13 rattles, coiled ready for a fight about the jug. George lost no time in killing the reptile and has preserved the skin and rattles to verify his statement.

Two young sons of George Copeland went snake hunting at a den near their father's home, on Little Hickory creek, one day recently and killed an even dozen of rattlers before they gave up the battle.

Henry Amburger of Hunters Station has been missing eggs from the nest in his chicken coop, even a china egg disappearing. He suspected rats or other small animals, but the other day when he found a dead blacksnake eight feet long nearby, with a china egg lodged in its stomach, the great mystery was solved.—Tionesta Vindicator.

Sterilizing Books.

The new sterilizing oven of M. Berlioz, a Frenchman, is designed for treating books and other easily damaged articles that do not admit of baking in an ordinary oven for destroying disease germs. It has a device for the evaporation of aldehydes, and, at atmospheric pressure and below boiling point, it completely sterilizes such objects as closed books, without the least effect upon the paper or covers. Delicate bindings may be protected by a wrapper. A volume of 1,300 pages had been soiled with pus and foecal matter as far as the inner margin, but it was completely sterilized in two hours at a temperature of less than 200 degrees F.

Its a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is prompt helping Stomach Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reached out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. A Village Power.

A Columbus firm had an account against a man in a small country town in Ohio, and after ineffectual attempts to collect determined to do something radical. So they wrote a letter to the postmaster of the town and asked information concerning the merchant; what his reputation was, whether he paid his bills and what kind of a man he was generally, and said if he was no good to give the bill, which they inclosed, to the justice of the peace for collection. The answer they got from the postmaster took their breath away. It read something like this:

"Gentlemen: I am the John Smith about whom you are seeking information. I am also John Smith, postmaster, and I am John Smith, justice of the peace. Yours very truly,

"JOHN SMITH."

Only One Life.

The chief of the fire department of Philadelphia, watching a dangerous fire in that city not long ago, was amazed by the daring of a recruit in the service, a young fellow plainly of German origin.

After the new fireman had emerged from his perilous position, the chief met him with many expressions of commendation and admiration.

"Well done, Hans, my boy!" exclaimed he; "but I never expected to see you alive again!"

A Sure-enough Knocker.

UNABLE TO MANAGE THE PIE.

Lad at Work for Farmer Took Too Large a Contract.

An Ohio farmer hired a runaway boy that came along and wanted work. At the first meal there was custard pie on the table, and the lad liked it so well that he offered to work for all the custard pie he could eat every day.

The farmer took him up. On the next day the boy eat five pies and nothing else. On the next four pies. On the third three. He stuck at three for two days, and then dropped to two. At the end of the week he had hard work to get away with one, and at the end of the tenth day the sight of a pie put him in a shiver.

The farmer insisted that he eat, and as he couldn't he was horsewhipped, and that brought the matter into court. The man was fined five dollars for cruelty to a boy, the boy was severely lectured for cruelty to custard pie, and while the farmer went back home the lad moved on in search of a home where pie of any sort was not known.

DeWitt'sCarbolized Witch Hazel Salve is recommended as the best thing to use for piles. It is, or course, good for anything where a salve is needed. Beware of imitations. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Many people suffer a great deal from kidney and bladder troubles. During the past few years much of this complaint has been made unnecessary by the use of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are antiseptic and are highly recommended for weak back backache, rheumatic pains, inflammation of the bladder and all other annoyances due to weak kidneys. They are sold by J. H. Swan.

TREVOR

Mrs. N. G. Parks and Mrs. Henry Parks were Antioch callers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller entertained some friends over Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Lubeno who has been quite sick is very much better at the present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barbyte entertained Mr. Larkins from Chicago a few days last week.

Mr. Thomas McGinty of Chicago spent Sunday and Monday with his folks at Trevor.

Mr. Henry Parks and family from Kenosha visited a few days with Mrs. N. G. Parks and his brothers Mr. Arthur Parks of Trevor.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St.' Chicago, tells of a way to become strong He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it is my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store. 50c.

Basting and Drinking.

"I went away from home the other day," his wife was saying, "and left my husband to baste the chicken. It seems he had a bottle with him. Every time he basted the chicken he took a drink. He must have basted it a good many times. When I got back it was beautifully done and basted to the queen's taste, but he was orieyed."

They Take the Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at J. H. Swan's drug store. 25c.

The Apple of Discord.

Claude—Eris, or Discord, was not invited, according to mythology, to the marriage of Peleus and Thetic. Angry at the slight she threw among the gods a golden apple inscribed, "To the most beautiful." Juno, Minerva and Venus each claimed the prize. The expression, "Apple of discord," refers to the controversy which followed.

When you have a cold you may be sure that it has been caused indirectly by constipation and consequently you must first of all take something to move the bowels. This is what has made Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup so successful and so generally demanded. It does not constipate like most of the old fashioned cough cures, but on the other hand it gently moves the bowels and at the same time heals irritation and allays inflammation of the throat. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Making Glass.

Glass is made iridescent by being exposed, in a red hot condition, to the fumes of salts of tin, barium and strontium. Red is produced by the strontia, blue by the baryta and bluish white by the tin. In ancient glass, which is more opaque, iridescence is due to partial decay.

A pleasing, good, high grade, truely flavored under colored cup of coffee can be had—and without the real Coffee damage, or danger to health—by simple using Dr. Shoop's new substitute, called "Health Coffee". Pure wholesome, toasted cereals, malt, nut and, etc. make Dr. Shoop's Health Caffee both healthful and satisfying. No 20 to 30 minute tendions boiling. "Made in a minnte" says, Dr. Shoop. If served as coffee, it's taste will even trick an expert. Test it and see. Sold by Williams Bros.

Cloth Made from Steel.

Iron cloth is made from steel, and has the appearance of horsehair cloth. It is largely used by tailors as a material for stiffening the shoulders and collars of coats.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.

"Intuition."

A suspicious woman guesses so many things that she doesn't know that she finally guesses the right one, and calls it "a woman's intuition."—Atchison Globe.

Kodol will, in a very short time, enable the stomach to do the work it should do, and the work it should do is to digest all the food you eat. When the stomach can't do it Kodol does it for it and in the meantime the stomach is getting stronger and able to take up its regular natural work again. Kodol digests all you eat. It makes the stomach sweet and it is pleasant to take. Sold here by J. H. Swan.

Cheaper Than Horses.

It is said that the use of an oil or gas engine on the farm results in a saving of from 20 to 50 per cent. as compared with horses.

Tickling or dry coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, nochlorofrom, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's Accept no other. Sold by J. H. Swan.

COL. NEVIUS CHOSEN

ONLY ONE BALLOT NEEDED

Other Officers Are Elected—Mrs. Gillman of Roxbury, Mass., New President of Woman's Relief Corps.

Toledo, O.—Col. Henry M. Nevius of Red Bank, N. J., was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Thursday. The election occurred on the first ballot, which gave Mr. Nevius 454 votes compared with 254 for former Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota, and 90 for L. T. Dickason of Illinois. On motion of the former Minnesota executive the nomination of the New Jersey man was made unanimous.

Other officers were chosen as follows: Senior vice-commander, J. Kent Hamilton of Ohio; junior vice-commander, C. C. Royce of California; chaplain-in-chief, J. F. Spence of Tennessee; surgeon-in-chief, G. Lane Tannehill of Maryland.

Col. Nevius, a native of New Jersey, was studying law with the late Russell A. Alger of Michigan when the war broke out, and enlisted from the state with the Lincoln cavalry. He rose to a commission with the Seventh Michigan and the Twenty-fifth New York cavalry regiments, and lost an arm in front of Fort Stevens when the union army was engaged with Gen. Early.

March of the Veterans.

Toledo, O.—For an hour or more Wednesday the great parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its attendant throngs, served merely as the background of as dramatic an incident as has enlivened a political campaign in some years, namely the public meeting of William H. Taft and his erstwhile rival, Senator Joseph Benson Foraker.

The Republican leader and his antagonist politically of the pre-convention canvass met in the official reviewing stand, shook hands, smiled and exchanged greetings, while from thousands of throats came cheer after cheer as the significance of the incident dawned upon the beholders.

Mr. Taft, bronzed from much golf and some fishing in Middle Bass island, ignorant of the impending meeting, arrived from the island on Commodore Richardson's power boat Jassamine at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. His progress along the streets in an automobile, accompanied by Gen. Corbin, President Lewis of the Middle Bass Fishing club, and Mayor Whitlock, was a continued ovation. The thousands in the reviewing stand stood when he entered, and for some time after he had become seated. Then Senator Foraker appeared and the two shook hands cordially and chatted together.

Parade a Great Success.

The parade was remarkable for the absence of accidents and cases of exhaustion, and for the good order which prevailed, not only among the dense crowds along the line of march, but throughout the city. Mayor Whitlock stated that despite the crowd of 100,000 visitors there had been fewer accidents, fewer misdemeanors and less work for the police generally than on any average day of the year. Aside from a veteran who was slightly bruised by being hit by an ambulance, there were no accidents, and not more than a dozen visited the hospital as the result of fatigue.

Estimates of the number of veterans in line varied from 8,000 to three times that number, but it is doubtful if there were more than 12,000. The various posts marched with half a block between them, and the departments were even further apart. There was a good ten feet separating each row of marchers and it was this liberality of space which made it require four hours to pass the reviewing stand. Fully half the veterans wore the badges of either Michigan or Ohio.

G. A. R. Selects Salt Lake City.

Toledo, O.—Salt Lake City won over Washington Friday for the forty-third annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic next year by a vote of 461 to 104.

Hanly Calls Extra Session.

Indianapolis, Ind. — Gov. J. Frank Hanly Friday afternoon issued a call for an extra session of the Indiana legislature to meet in Indianapolis September 18 to consider four subjects. They are county local option law, the repeal of the grant by the last legislature of $120,548 unexpended balances appropriated to state institutions by the last legislature from reverting to the general fund September 30, which would have occurred on account of an error in the present law, and to give the governor power to deal with troubles in southern Indiana that may be caused by night riders.

FLAMES WIPE OUT RAWHIDE

THREE THOUSAND HOMELESS IN THE NEVADA TOWN.

Property Loss $750,000—Conflagration Checked by Dynamite—Business Section in Ruins.

Rawhide, Nev.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured, and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a disastrous fire which started at nine o'clock Friday morning in Dr. Gardner's office located in the Rawhide Drug company's building. Fanned by a gale ,the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon avenue and up Rawhide avenue to within 50 yards of the People's hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings which in a measure stayed the flames' progress. The volunteer fire department and 500 miner volunteers worked heroically, but on account of the inflammable construction of the buildings they were swept away like tinder.

At 11 o'clock the business portion of Rawhide was a smoldering mass of ruins, the flames being finally checked south of Balloon avenue.

A famine was feared as all the supply houses and grocery stores were wiped out.

A subscription was started and in a few minutes over $5,000 was raised and a relief train started from Reno at four o'clock, carrying thousands of pounds of foods and bedding.

All the mining towns of the state came quickly to the assistance of the Rawhide sufferers with cash contributions. The San Francisco Mining exchange at once sent a contribution of $500.

Plans were well under way for a reconstruction of the town before the ashes were thoroughly cool.

The fire was brought under control after destroying the entire business section with the exception of one grocery store. This store has sold all of its provisions and unless food is rushed here there will be much suffering.

Two commercial travelers are reported to have lost their lives in the burning of the Ross hotel, but this has not been confirmed.

The town has been placed under martial law.

RIOTER PLEADS GUILTY.

Youth Admits Part in Springfield Race War and Is Sentenced.

Springfield, Ill.—The first of the rioters who participated in the recent race war to appear for trial was Roy Young, who Friday entered a plea of guilty to the charge of burglary, larceny, arson and riot. He confessed to having set fire to many negro homes. Young swore that his age was 15, whereupon Judge Creighton sentenced him to the Pontiac reformatory.

George Richardson, who was indicted for assault upon Mrs. Hallam, and who later was exonerated, was ordered released from the Bloomington jail.

Springfield, Ill.—The special grand jury called to probe the recent race war adjourned Thursday night after returning 17 more indictments. This makes a total of 117 during the session. Among the indictments returned Thursday were those against four Springfield policemen, Oscar Dahlkamp, Joseph Ferendez, George H. Ohlman and George W. Dawson. They are indicted for alleged failure to suppress the riot when detailed for that duty.

Sheriff Warner, Chief of Police Wilbur Morris, Capt. Charles Walsh of troop D, Springfield, and other officers are commended by the grand jury. The report condemns alleged "cowards" among the officials.

Discarded Suitor Slays.

Omaha, Neb.—Crazed by jealousy when informed that his sweetheart, Edna Kennett, a checker at the Loyal hotel, was about to marry William Witt, another admirer, Daniel Godell Friday evening shot Miss Kennett on the street, inflicting wounds from which she died an hour later, and then attempted to blow out his own brains. He will probably recover.

HELP!

WIDOW OF FIELD, JR., WEDS

BECOMES BRIDE OF MALDWIN DRUMMOND AT LONDON.

Simple Ceremony, Performed in Westminster Registry, Witnessed by Few.

London, England. — Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, was married at the Westminster registry office Thursday morning to Maldwin Drummond, second son of the late Edgar Atheling Drummond and the Honorable Louisa Theodosia Pennington, who was a daughter of the third Lord Muncaster. The wedding, which was extremely quiet, was celebrated in

The wedding was celebrated in the little registry office opposite Buckingham palace. The only persons present to witness the ceremony were the duke of Westminster, who is a great friend of Mr. Drummond; Craig W. Wadsworth, second secretary of the American embassy, and Mrs. Field's two sons. The boys have been living in England with their mother since the death of their father and they are to enter Eaton in the autumn.

Mrs. Field had known Mr. Drummond for about ten years, having met him during her frequent visits to England. She renewed her acquaintance when she came here after her husbands death to practically take up her residence and educate her sons in an English school.

To the world at large Mrs. Drummond was chiefly known as the guardian and mother of the Field grandchildren, who are to receive a fortune of more than $100,000,000 left by their grandfather.

AERONAUT DASHED TO DEATH.

Falls 500 Feet Before Great Crowd at Waterville, Me.

Waterville, Me.—In full view of 25,000 horrified spectators assembled on the Central Maine fair grounds here late Wednesday, Charles Oliver Jones, a well-known aeronaut of Hammondsport, N. Y., fell 500 feet to his death. Among the witnesses of the frightful plunge were Mrs. Jones and child, and they were almost the first to reach the side of the dying man. The aeronaut died an hour and a half after the accident.

Jones had made an ascension in a dirigible balloon. The gas bag leaked and sparks from the motor set the machine afire.

Giant Trees Are Saved.

Sonora, Cal.—The forest fire which threatened the famous big tree grove in this county has been brought under control and the great trees are safe. Considerable damage has been done to the big trees, but it is not thought many of them will die from the scorching, especially if the fall rains begin early. Several of the dead giants of the forest have been badly burned.

Frank P. Sargent Dead.

Washington.—Frank Pierce Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, for over 16 years grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and one of the most forceful characters in the field of labor in the country, died at his apartments at the Manor house in this city Friday. He was 54 years old.

Flames Sweep Sumner, Miss.

Sumner, Miss.—Practically the entire business section of this place was destroyed and one man lost his life in a fire which started in the store building occupied by H. H. Polk & Co. early Friday. The property loss is estimated at $100,000.

Accident Kills Merchant Prince.

Basle, Switzerland.—Emanuel Mandel, a multi-millionaire merchant of Chicago, died here Thursday night as the result of injuries received in a fall at the railway station.

HORRIBLE MURDER IN BOSTON.

Man Kills His Actress Wife and Dismembers the Corpse.

Boston.—The most brutal crime in Greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four years ago, was disclosed Thursday night by the discoverey of the torso of Mrs. Honorah Jordan, an actress aged 23 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding house at 7 Hancock street on Beacon hill, this city. Later the head and the bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home at Somerville and the scalp, hair and other grewsome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor of Somerville, is held by the police charged with the murder and, according to the officers, he made a complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home and, becoming desperate over what he had done, took a butcher's knife, razor and shears and cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk. He then planned to take the steamer Harvard Wednesday night for New York and throw the parts of the body overboard. The fact that the Harvard was laid off owing to an accident disarranged his plans and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding house to await a more favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, who notified the police.

SLOOP UPSETS; SEVEN DROWN.

Disaster Overtakes Sailing Party in Penobscot Bay.

Deer Isle, Me.—Seven summer visitors out of a party of ten were drowned by the capsizing of a 35-foot sloop in Penobscot bay, Tuesday.

The drowned are: Miss Alice Torro, Washington; Miss Eleanor Torro, Washington; Miss Kellogg, Baltimore; Lutie Kellogg, Baltimore; Mrs. Lucy S. Crawley, Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth G. Evans, Mount Holyoke seminary, Mass.; Jason C. Hutchins, Bangor, Me.

The saved: Capt. Haskell, Deer Isle; Prof. Edwin S. Crawley, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, husband of Mrs. Crawley; Henry B. Evans, Mount Holyoke, brother of Miss Elizabeth Evans.

New Comet Is Discovered.

Lake Geneva, Wis.—Director Edwin B. Frost of the Yerkes observatory Wednesday night announced the discovery of a new comet through photographic observations made by Prof. D. W. Moorehouse of Drake university of Des Moines. The presence of the comet was revealed upon development of three photographic plates exposed in three cameras. It is clearly defined and has a tail several degrees long and was found in the constellation Camelcopardus, remaining above the horizon throughout the night.

Council of Women Meets.

Geneva. — The International Council of Women, which was organized by American women at the Chicago world's fair in 1893, and whose membership totals about 7,000,000, representing all parts of the world, held its opening session here Tuesday.

Fleet Leaves Melbourne.

Melbourne.—Cheered by thousands of Australians, the American battleships weighed anchor at eight o'clock Saturday morning and sailed away from Melbourne. They next stop at Albany, West Australia, where a week will be spent taking coal. Friday the last of the entertainments for officers and men were given. The state government entertained Admiral Sperry and the senior officers at an elaborate luncheon. For the others there were baseball and lacrosse matches and a regatta.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Babies Also Cured —Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came out between his shoulders and down his back, and he said his suffering was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah E. Lusk, Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 15 and Sept. 2, 1907."

On Trial.

A Scotchman stood beside the bed of his dying wife, and in tearful accents asked was there anything he could do for her.

"Yes, Sandie," she said; "I'm hoping you'll hury me in Craeburn kirkyard."

"But, my lass," he cried, "only think of the awful expense! Would ye no be comfortable here in Aberdeen?"

"No, Sandie; I'd no rest in my grave unless I were buried in Craeburn."

"It's too much you're askin'," said the loving husband, "and I cannot promise ye ony such thing."

"Then, Sandie, I'll no give you ony peace until my bones are at rest in my native parish."

"Ah, weel, Maggie," said he, "I'll just gie ye a three-month trial in Aberdeen, an' see how ye get along."

Critical Eye for Babies.

The five-year-old daughter of a Brooklyn man has had such a large experience of dolls that she feels herself to be something of a connoisseur in children.

Recently there came a real live baby into the house.

"Isn't it a nice baby?" asked the nurse.

"Yes, it's nice," answered the youngster hesitatingly. "It's nice, but its head's loose."—Lippincott's.

MOTHER AND CHILD

Both Fully Nourished on Grape-Nuts.

The value of this famous food is shown in many ways, in addition to what might be expected from its chemical analysis.

Grape-Nuts food is made of whole wheat and barley, is thoroughly baked for many hours and contains all the wholesome ingredients in these cereals.

It contains also the phosphate of potash grown in the grains, which Nature uses to build up brain and nerve cells.

Young children require proportionately more of this element because the brain and nervous system of the child grows so rapidly.

A Va. mother found the value of Grape-Nuts in not only building up her own strength but in nourishing her baby at the same time. She writes:

"After my baby came I did not recover health and strength, and the doctor said I could not nurse the baby as I did not have nourishment for her, besides I was too weak.

"He said I might try a change of diet and see what that would do, and recommended Grape-Nuts food. I bought a pkg. and used it regularly. A marked change came over both baby and I.

"My baby is now four months old, is in fine condition, I am nursing her and doing all my work and never felt better in my life." "There's a Reason."

A SIMPLE SAFEGUARD IN BUYING PAINT.

Everybody should know how simple and easy it is to avoid all uncertainty in buying paint materials. There are many so-called white leads on the market, which contain chalk, zinc, barytes, and other cheap adulterants. Unless the property owner takes advantage of the simple means of protection afforded him by reliable white lead manufacturers, he runs great risk of getting an inferior and adulterated white lead.

It is to protect the paint-buyer against fraud and adulteration that National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, place their famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark on every keg of their product, an absolute guarantee of its purity and quality. Anyone who wants to make a practical test of white lead, and who wants a valuable free book about painting, should address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York, and ask for test equipment.

How Hammer of Death Struck James.

The old parish church of Plumstead, which has just been reopened, is probably at least 1,000 years old. The picturesque churchyard, a cherished haunt of the poet Bloomfield during his visits to Shooter's Hill, contains a delightfully choice "derangement of epitaphs." One of these, on "Master James Darling, aged ten," teaches a lesson of moderation during the present cherry season to the youth of other places besides Plumstead. Speaking from his tombstone, Master Darling exclaims:

"The hammer of Death was give to me
For eating the cherries off tha tree."

AND SHE LEFT HIM GUESSING.

Woman's Directions of Little Help to Traveling Lawyer.

A New York lawyer was called recently to a hamlet in Berks county, Pennsylvania, in the interest of a large coal corporation, and now he is telling this story on himself:

He was driving along a country road and feared he might have lost his bearings. The village he wanted to reach seemed elusive, so he halted in front of a farmhouse to make inquiries.

"Madam," he called out to a broad German woman, who stood looking at him from beneath a "poke" bonnet, "can you tell me how far it is to the next village?"

"Oh, yust a leedle vays," came the response.

"But, my good woman, how far is it? Is it two, four, six or eight miles? That's what I want to know."

"Yah, I tinks so."

And the Wall street lawyer drove on a wiser man.

"What was your record across Jersey?"

"One country constable and a cow."

No Automobiles There.

"There are no automobiles on the golden streets of heaven," says the Whitsett Courier, "but they're giving lots of folks a chance to walk those golden streets. One of the contraptions arrived in town last week and during the first spin the owner took in it it pitched a blind mule on top of the town hall, with the man that was ridin' the mule. The mule was so mad it kicked the town clock to pieces, likewise kickin' a hole in the roof an' fallin' on the mayor, just as he had took his seat an' called council to order. Having landed in the midst of them, the mule walked slow and dignified to the front door an' then took to the woods."

Boy Grades the Clergy.

Bishop Potter, at an ecclesiastical dinner in New York, read a Cooperstown schoolboy's essay on "Clergymen." The essay, which created much amusement, was as follows:

"There are 2 kinds of clergymen Bishups recters and curats. the bishups tells the recters to work and the curats have to do it. A curat is a thin married man but when he is a recter he gets fuller and can preach longer sermons and becums a good man."—Washington Star.

ARRESTS PASTOR; WAR ON

Alleged Wife Beater Accuses Peacemaker—Town of Worden Divides Over Fight Against Minister.

Worden.—The town of Worden was bitterly divided over the recent arrest of Rev. Curwein Henley, pastor of the Worden Methodist church, on a charge of disturbing the peace, and over a damage suit filed against him at the same time. The disturbance case ended in the pastor's discharge, and the suit, in which George Vesper, one of the minister's neighbors, charged defamation of character, was withdrawn about the same time. But the controversy growing out of the case raged in the town. Rev. Mr. Henley has been a leader in the fight, thus far an unsuccessful fight, on the saloons. He considers this the true explanation of his recent troubles, which caused him seriously to consider requesting a transfer to some other field. While on the lawn in front of his home the minister heard sounds from Vesper's home which caused him to think that Mrs. Vesper needed help. Several men were standing at a nearby corner and Pastor Henley called to them; "Get a policeman. George Vesper is beating his wife." The sounds next door ceased, no policeman came, and the neighbors did not venture upon Vesper's premises. But the next day a policeman did call on the minister and arrested him on Vesper's complaint for disturbing the peace.

BARS WIDOW FROM BIER.

Law Aids Peoria Dentist's Parents in Keeping Woman from Funeral.

Peoria.—Because they thought she was not the legal wife of their son, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Covington had two policemen and Sheriff Hines guard the funeral services and grave of Dr. Charles Covington, a dentist, who died several days ago from tuberculosis, to keep Mrs. Alice Covington from placing flowers on his casket and grave. The young widow, who is a cultured southern girl, claims she married the doctor three years ago in a small Kentucky town, but declines to state what place. She came here recently to be near her husband during his illness. When he died the parents got possession of the body and, with the aid of the law, forced Mrs. Covington to keep away from the services.

Double Funeral Held.

Edinburg.—Two thousand persons gathered here to attend the double funeral of Elmer E. and Ben F. Wolaver, who carried out a suicide pact by ending their lives in the Sangamon river. So great was the cortege that fully 800 could not find room in the M. E. church, where the simple funeral rites were held.

Try to Blow Up Thresher.

Sterling.—Indignant farmers investigated an attempt to blow up Chris. Barth's thresher, an infernal machine being found in a bundle of oats which was just about to be fed into the separator. Twenty men were working around the machine when the startling discovery was made.

Boy Convicted of Murder.

Metropolis.—Ernest Rushing, aged 18 years, was found guilty in the circuit court of the murder of Bert McHenry last Christmas, and was given 14 years in the penitentiary. This is the second trial of this case, the jury disagreeing in the first.

Oil Find at Sandoval.

Sandoval.—In the Junction City mine, south of here, a drip is flowing ten gallons of a good quality of petroleum daily. A company will put down a well. Options for oil are being rapidly made in the surrounding territory.

Long Fast May Kill.

Belleville.—Dr. Irving J. Eales, who gained fame by fasting 31 days last winter, lay at the point of death at his home in Belleville, a marytr to science in his determination to prove his theory that fasting is a panacea for all human ills.

Lincoln College Board Meets.

Lincoln.—All old officers were re-elected at a meeting of the board of managers of Lincoln college. Reports show the present endowment fund of the college to be $102,000, with an additional $10,000 to be added in a year.

Scarlet Fever; Schools Don't Open.

Abingdon.—On account of scarlet fever the board of health ordered the public schools of the city not to open. Only one death, that of Jennie McMasters, has been reported up to date.

Death-Bed Romance.

San Jose.—A romance that had its inception when John G. Diers lay near death in Brokaw hospital at Bloomington culminated here when, in a double ceremony, Mr. Diers and Miss Alice M. Hopping of Bloomington were married.

Hurts Kill Daum Man.

Daum.—Injuries suffered when a bridge near Athensville, over which he was driving a threshing machine, collapsed, resulted in the death here of A. J. Kelley.

ANARCHISTS NIPPED

BERKMAN AND FOLLOWERS IN TROUBLE ONCE MORE.

HE AND A GIRL ARRESTED

New York.—An attempt was made Monday to turn a meeting of unemployed workingmen into an anarchistic demonstration, and for half an hour the big meeting hall in Cooper Union, where the meeting took place, was the scene of wild excitement, during which red flags were raised, the police denounced and incendiary speeches made.

Alexander Berkman, the anarchist who some years ago shot Henry C. Frick, a steel company official, during the Homestead strike in Pennsylvania, was dragged from the hall by the police and locked up. A young woman who gave her name as "Mary Smith," and who stood by Berkman, was also arrested, and Emma Goldman, recognized leader of the "reds" in this country, was made to leave the hall.

Dr. Ben Reitman was on the program for a speech on the "Care of the Unemployed," but it was not noticed that he had anything to say on this subject. Dr. Reitman urged the unemployed to cease submitting to labor. He denounced public institutions and then said:

"Listen! This is anarchy, but I tell you there should be fewer thousands expended in the maintenance of churches and the police, and the money should be expended in caring for the unemployed such as you, and not spent in keeping up such superstitions."

At this point Charles Oberwager, a former president of the Central Federated union, was introduced. He denounced the preceding speaker, declaring Dr. Reitman had preached the doctrines of anarchy. This caused an outburst and during the excitement Berkman sprang to his feet and demanded to be allowed to take the platform to defend the anarchistic doctrines in which he believes.

BILLY PAPKE IS CHAMPION.

Illinois Thunderbolt Whips Stanley Ketchel at Los Angeles.

Vernon Arena, Los Angeles, Cal.—Stanley Ketchel of Michigan, former middleweight champion of the world, was knocked out in the twelfth round at Jeffries' Vernon arena at four o'clock Monday afternoon by Billy Papke of Illinois, who is now middleweight champion of the world.

Both men entered the ring in apparent perfect condition and neither had ever been knocked out. Ketchel had a decision over Papke in a previous ten-round bout. Both men are as clean-looking prize fighters as anyone sees, but the bout ended as one of the bloodiest in ring history.

CRANK AT OYSTER BAY.

Armed Man Trying to Reach the President Is Arrested.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—A crank armed with an antiquated "bulldog" revolver, was caught near the president's house at Sagamore Hill Monday by the secret service guards. The man described himself as John Coughlin, a detective, and when stopped by the secret service men, presented a card upon which was inscribed his name and the word "officer." He said that he had come to ask the president to order out 10,000 troops to catch yeggmen who had been terrorizing Boston.

KILLED UNDER HIS AUTO.

Paris Fletcher, Well-Known St. Paul Man, Meets Death.

St. Paul, Minn.—Paris Fletcher, member of a well-known real estate firm of this city and prominent socially, was instantly killed and Mrs. Fletcher was severely injured by the overturning of their automobile at Minneiska, near Wabasha, Minn., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher left St. Paul Saturday afternoon for a trip through southern Minnesota, expecting to be gone about ten days.

F. D. Bethune in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal.—F. D. Bethune, an attorney of New York, who disappeared from his home in that city, August 23, is said to be in Los Angeles. No motive for his disappearance is known and he is supposed to be suffering from mental derangement.

Steamer Crashes Into Bridge.

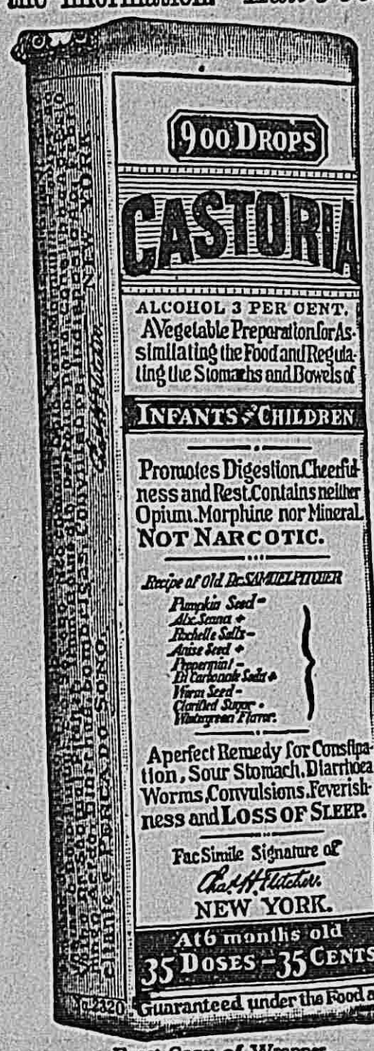

Winona, Minn.—The steamer Rutledge, the largest excursion craft in local waters, was badly damaged while attempting to pass through the Northwestern draw bridge Monday.

Electric Line to Carry Coal.

Springfield, Ill.—The secretary of state Monday issued articles of incorporation to the Saline County Traction company. The capital is nominally placed at $5,000. L. E. Fischer, general manager of the Illinois Traction system; A. C. Murray of the same line; J. A. Swanberg, Springfield, and W. L. Murphy, Danville, are the incorporators. They will build an electric line from Eldorado through Harrisburg to Carriers Mills in Saline county. The primary object is to carry the heavy output of the coal mines.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."
